

NEW ROUTING FOR TOURISTS VIA PALI, ROUND TOP AND TANTALUS

Taylor Maps Out Motor Route for Visitors Intent on Sight-Seeing—Wants Rates

A new combination motor drive for tourist sight-seeing purposes to include the Pali, Punchbowl and new Round Top-Tantalus road above Maunaloa valley is planned by A. P. Taylor, acting director of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, who will ask the cooperation of the chauffeurs of all automobile stands to fix an average rate for this trip.

It is planned that the trip shall be, first, the usual trip to the Pali, then along the Pali road to the Punchbowl summit, thence through the Federal Experiment Station, passing the beautiful hibiscus grove, then along Wilder avenue, up Makiki street to its junction with and along the new Round Top drive to Tantalus, above Maunaloa valley. Mr. Taylor has gone over the new Round Top road thoroughly and he agrees with Superintendent Forbes of the department of public works that the Round Top road should not be used at night until it is widened in places and more turn-outs provided, it is now an ideal drive in day time.

The drive has been built by prison labor along a line two-thirds up the slope of Round Top until it enters the gap above the Castle home.

After entering the gap the road debouches into a beautiful region covered with heavy shrubbery, including gnarled and low-growing trees. After making several turns a view of a knoll which gives a view of the entire Maunaloa valley and all the country from Waiwae to the city proper. The road then winds through this region in zigzag lines, so much so that a prisoner's camp located there is called "Zigzag Camp." As a result that region will be known as the "zigzag."

The road again comes out on a ridge, so that looking to the left one looks down into the Makiki valley and the heavily wooded Tantalus region back of Punchbowl, and to the right one has a splendid view of Mount Olympus and other heavily wooded regions in that section.

Mr. Taylor's idea is that this combination drive will give a magnificent view of the interior valleys and canyons of Tantalus and that the visitor will have been shown one of the most beautiful regions in the entire island of Oahu, a view of scenery which seems incredible because it is less than half a hour distant from the city itself and on a par with famous drives near San Francisco, Monterey and through the Santa Cruz mountains.

The Early Morning Club, which is composed of a number of residents of College Hills and Maunaloa Valley, has for its objective an early morning hike up Tantalus by way of the Castle trail back of the Castle home. This trail meets the new Round Top road at the gap.

Mr. Taylor suggests that tourists who want an easy hike for sight-seeing and exercise purposes, with a constantly changing panorama of scenery, make this early hike by leaving the beach or the hotels in the Punahou section between 6 and 6:30 in the morning, transferring to the Moana car, getting off at the Castle Home station and then making the hike up to this region.

Tourists from the hotels are always sure to meet members of the Early Morning Club on the trail, either going or coming, so that it will not be a lonely walk in any respect. The Castle trail is well cut and is one of the most popular trails going into the Tantalus region.

J. A. BRECKONS SAYS CRITICISM OF CONGRESSIONAL VISIT NOT JUST

J. A. Breckons, newspaperman and congressional clerk, recently answered the allegation that the congressional party which visited here was crammed full of "sugar and sugar tariff" from start to finish.

In an interview published in the Washington Post of July 13 Breckons is quoted as follows:

"The intimation that the congressional party which recently visited Hawaii was taken there to be influenced in favor of continuing the tariff duty on sugar was not sustained by what actually took place in regard to the sugar question during the visit.

"In fact, the islanders at no time seriously discussed the sugar question, and what discussion there was at the various public meetings was by senators and representatives themselves.

"At an Ad Club banquet in Honolulu Senator Saulsbury flatly declared his adherence to the free sugar doctrine on the ground that free sugar meant the greatest good for the greatest number, and no effort was made by local speakers to controvert his argument. Republican members of the visiting party asserted their belief in a sugar tariff and some Democratic speakers opposed it.

Glass Admits Necessity.

"The Democratic point of view was expressed by Representative Carter Glass, who said he had seen in the islands that a duty on sugar would benefit the sugar industry, and would also be effective as a revenue producer. He favored a sugar duty to raise revenue, but being a strict party man, he said he would follow instructions of his party caucus on this question, even if conflicting with his personal views.

"With practically all lines of business dependent upon the success of the sugar industry, naturally the people of Hawaii, regardless of their political beliefs, are apprehensive concerning what is in store for them should the present tariff law remain unchanged and sugar go on the free list next year.

"The visiting congressmen were shown all phases of the sugar industry when in Hawaii, but there was no undue effort to induce any of them to change their opinions on the question of retaining or repealing the present tariff law schedule relating to sugar.

LARSEN PROPOSES NEW DIVISION OF $105,000 VOTED BY LEGISLATURE

In order to bring before the proper authorities notice of the appropriation of $105,000 for water and sewers, made from the loan fund by the last legislature, Supervisor Larsen last night offered to the board a communication suggesting methods of division for use of the amount.

Mr. Larsen suggested that for the water department, an expenditure of $47,000 for work on the water systems in Nuuanu and Maunaloa valleys, and for the sewer system $30,000.

It is also suggested that the $20,000 appropriated for the investigation of water supply through the committee recently appointed, be taken from this fund. This would leave a balance of about $6000.

FERNANDEZ WILL DELIVER FILM TO ARCHIVES TODAY

Lydecker Has Referred Question of Movie of Queen to Attorney-General

What promises to be the close of the history of the now famous moving picture film which Edwin K. Fernandez took at the Queen's reception to the territorial senate, and which he had seemingly "taken for keeps," comes in an announcement by Mr. Fernandez himself that the film will be delivered today to the Public Archives.

Mr. Fernandez had not heard that Superintendent Lydecker of the Public Archives had returned from Hilo until informed of it by a Star-Bulletin reporter. "I have been waiting to give the film to him, and so stop all this excitement," said Mr. Fernandez. "The film had not yet put in an appearance when Mr. Lydecker was seen today."

"I can't understand what Fernandez intends to do about this picture that he is supposed to file with us," said Mr. Lydecker, who arrived yesterday morning on the steamer Kilauea.

"I am told," he continued, "that Mr. Fernandez has been back from Hawaii a week now, but the clerk informs me that he has paid no visit to the archives, even for a word of explanation in regard to the film, and no film has shown up here as yet."

Mr. Lydecker was evidently much put out, and he did not hesitate to say so. He says the matter is out of his hands now as far as going out after the film is concerned, for he has turned the affair over to the attorney-general.

"I suppose," he went on, "that if I had known immediately after the adoption of Senate Resolution 17 that such a resolution had been passed, all of this trouble might have been avoided, for I should have been on the watch sooner and required an immediate delivery of the film. I did not know of it, however. In fact, the first information I had in the matter was when the resolution itself was filed in the archives."

Mr. Lydecker asked first about the film when he ran across Mr. Roberts, clerk of the senate. Roberts told him that Fernandez had promised to deliver it within two or three days. When this time had elapsed and no film showed up, Senator Chillingworth was approached on the matter, and immediately wrote to Mr. Fernandez a "sharp" letter, demanding immediate delivery of the trouble-making celluloid.

When Senator Chillingworth got no answer or explanation, Mr. Lydecker says he himself sent a brief message to Mr. Fernandez, the very tone of which should have engendered a reply of some sort, but which did not. All of this correspondence occurred before Mr. Fernandez went to Hilo.

"I see in a letter that Fernandez has sent to the governor," said Mr. Lydecker, "that he maintains the right to sell all the copies of the film he wants to. I do not deny him that privilege, but I should like to see some other return for the $149.20 that we have paid him than the utter disregard we have so far received."

THE NEWS

—CHARLES R. FRAZIER: The Ad Club is going into the coming Civic Convention on Kauai with the real Ad Club spirit. We aim to do our share of the work and do it right.

—W. C. ACHI: I understand some of the leading Republicans among the Hawaiians strongly favor the short-ballot plan for a new city charter and I do not see why the convention should not adopt this plan.

—A. E. JUDD: I favor the idea of having the city auditor elected under the short-ballot plan now discussed for the new city charter. It makes the man who must scrutinize the city's finances independent of any city official or department.

Circuit Judge William L. Whitney, who has been spending a month's leave of absence at the exposition in San Francisco, will return to Honolulu in the steamer Wilhelmina August 3, according to a cablegram received by Attorney E. W. Sutton today.

The judgment entered by Circuit Judge Stuart in the case of J. J. Byrne against William Cottrell, an action for debt, has been set aside and the matter ordered reopened for a new trial. Judge Stuart found for the plaintiff at the conclusion of the first trial.

While sawing a limb from a tree at a seaside hotel yesterday, Sensaki Monkawa, a Japanese, suffered a broken wrist when the falling limb dragged him to the ground. The Japanese had a rope to the limb to prevent it striking the roof of the hotel. As the limb fell the rope twined about his right wrist.

Details of the campaign which the local Anti-Saloon League is waging for prohibition will be outlined at the mid-week meeting in Central Union church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. W. A. Bowen, chairman of the advisory council of the league, will report on the recent adjourned annual meeting. Superintendent J. W. Wadman and G. W. Paty, agent for the league, will speak.

Stainback, now on the mainland, is making it known on the coast that he is a candidate for the vacancy on the local supreme court bench, which will be created if Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson is not reappointed. Mr. Stainback has been mentioned as a possible successor to Circuit Judge Whitney. He will return to Honolulu August 12.

TAKES $800 IN GOLD TO COURT IN A 'KERCHIEF

A shower of gold coins of the $5 and $10 variety fell on the desk of Ben Kahalepuna, clerk in Circuit Judge Stuart's court, this morning, and Hidekichi Fujimoto, a Japanese, was out just $300.

Quite a while ago Hidekichi was divorced by his wife. The court ordered that he pay the woman sufficient alimony to supply the wants of life. But Hidekichi evidently didn't respect the court's order to any great extent, and soon got behind in his payments to the sum of $1,250. He made one payment of $90 and then quit.

Then the arm of the law reached out and brought him into court this morning. He carried a handkerchief bulging with hard metal, the contents of which he dumped on the clerk's desk. "E. C. Peters, attorney for the plaintiff, took charge of the money. "The poor man hasn't even enough money to buy stockings," commented Attorney J. Lightfoot. "He comes into court without any stockings on."

"Oh, well, perhaps that is because it is so early in the morning," remarked Judge Stuart, who was blowing smoke rings into the air.

Hidekichi was ordered to pay the remainder of the deficit within 30 days.

Rear Admiral A. G. Winterhalter will advance to the rank of admiral and will succeed Admiral Cowles in command of the Asiatic fleet.

Yesterday's blunder may be the cause of today's worry.

WILL BE READY FOR MESSAGES IN FORTNIGHT

Wireless Commercial Service Between Honolulu and Japan Then

Within two weeks the Japan-Hawaii link of the Marconi globe-encircling wireless chain will be opened to the public for the commercial transmission of messages.

W. P. S. Hawk, manager of the Marconi office in Honolulu, made this announcement today, following the interchange last night of wireless messages from New York to Tokyo over the new system, relayed at Kahuku and Koko Head.

Manager Hawk expressed himself as being greatly pleased with this new branch of the Marconi service, which is the longest span in the wireless chain, covering a distance of approximately 4200 miles.

"Splendid progress is being made," he said. "It is very gratifying and fully up to expectations."

The Marconi station in Japan is located at Funahashi, in close proximity with Choshi and Tokio. Wireless messages from the United States to Japan, or vice versa, will be relayed at Honolulu. They will be received at Koko Head and transmitted from the sending station at Kahuku.

Manager Hawk says he has received no definite information as yet regarding rates or class of service. New services, however, probably will be announced at an early date, he believes.

E. J. Nally, vice-president and manager of the Marconi Company, visited Honolulu a few weeks ago to prepare for the first wireless tests over the new span. At that time he announced that the local stations were in perfect working order.

At 9 o'clock last night the local station was called up to relay the first commercial message from Japan. It was from Jiro Tanaka, director-general, department of communication, Tokio, and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Nally, New York. The message was as follows:

"Availing myself of this opportunity, I have the honor to offer you my sincere congratulations upon this first communication."

Mr. Nally replied immediately as follows:

"Mrs. Nally joins me in congratulations and thanks for the first wireless communication between Japan and America, and also in the fervent wish that this most wonderful of all inventions will further bind the two countries in peace and progress."

Other messages for test purposes were exchanged between 9 and 11 o'clock, says Manager Hawk.

KINNEY WANTS HIS FEE FOR SMART WILL CASE

Notice of a suit to recover attorney's fees in the sum of $12,500, brought by Attorney W. A. Kinney of Nova Scotia, was forwarded to Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight of San Francisco, mother of the late Thelma T. K. Parker Smart, today. The suit was filed in circuit court late yesterday afternoon.

Attorney Kinney was retained by Mrs. Knight as her representative in the Smart will contest, which resulted in a compromise after numerous hearings before Circuit Judge Whitney.

Kinney came to Honolulu, remained throughout the proceedings and left shortly after the compromise was effected, but before the signing of the papers at the final settlement. A. W. Carter, trustee and manager of the Parker estate, is named in the suit as garnishee.

W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd., Now Handle the Celebrated Royal Copenhagen China—A Full Service Will Be Installed in the New Bankers' Club of New York, the Most Exclusive Organization in America

When the doors of New York's newest and most exclusive luncheon club are thrown open in the near future, the many white-clothed tables will be found set with a dinnerware pattern that has stood the test of time and is today what it was one hundred and thirty-six years ago—a classic dinnerware service.

The membership of the Bankers' Club will, needless to say, embrace the heads of the best families of America, cultured to a degree and, many of them connoisseurs and collectors of ceramics, their aesthetic taste was doubtless taken into consideration in selecting the dishes to be placed before them.

The design is known as the "Mussel" pattern and is the famous blue fluted brought out by the Royal Copenhagen potters in 1779 and successfully manufactured ever since.

Dimond & Co. consider themselves fortunate in securing this ware for Hawaii, its adoption by the Bankers' Club is the best endorsement of its artistic and wearing qualities.—Adv.
